DETAILED ACTION

Election/Restrictions

1. Applicant's election without traverse of Group II, claims 2-11, in the reply filed on 11/03/05 is acknowledged.
2. Claims 1, 12-20 are withdrawn from further consideration pursuant to 37 CFR 1.142(b) as being drawn to a nonelected group, there being no allowable generic or linking claim. Election was made without traverse in the reply filed on 11/03/05.

Drawings

3. Figures 18-21 should be designated by a legend such as --Prior Art-- because only that which is old is illustrated. See MPEP § 608.02(g). Corrected drawings in compliance with 37 CFR 1.121(d) are required in reply to the Office action to avoid abandonment of the application. The replacement sheet(s) should be labeled "Replacement Sheet" in the page header (as per 37 CFR 1.84(c)) so as not to obstruct any portion of the drawing figures. If the changes are not accepted by the examiner, the applicant will be notified and informed of any required corrective action in the next Office action. The objection to the drawings will not be held in abeyance.

Claim Objections

4. Claim 2 is objected to because of the following informalities: In claim 2, line 5, "fixed or larger thickness" is vague and unclear. The examiner interprets the phrase as to mean the resin fills the opening in this Office Action. Appropriate correction is required.

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 103

5. The following is a quotation of 35 U.S.C. 103(a) which forms the basis for all obviousness rejections set forth in this Office action:

(a) A patent may not be obtained though the invention is not identically disclosed or described as set forth in section 102 of this title, if the differences between the subject matter sought to be patented and the prior art are such that the subject matter as a whole would have been obvious at the time the invention was made to a person having ordinary skill in the art to which said subject matter pertains. Patentability shall not be negated by the manner in which the invention was made.

6. The factual inquiries set forth in Graham v. John Deere Co., 383 U.S. 1, 148 USPQ 459 (1966), that are applied for establishing a background for determining obviousness under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) are summarized as follows:

1. Determining the scope and contents of the prior art.
2. Ascertaining the differences between the prior art and the claims at issue.
3. Resolving the level of ordinary skill in the pertinent art.
4. Considering objective evidence present in the application indicating obviousness or nonobviousness.

7. This application currently names joint inventors. In considering patentability of the claims under 35 U.S.C. 103(a), the examiner presumes that the subject matter of the various claims was commonly owned at the time any inventions covered therein were made absent any evidence to the contrary. Applicant is advised of the obligation under 37 CFR 1.56 to point out the inventor and invention dates of each claim that was not commonly owned at the time a later invention was made in order for the examiner to consider the applicability of 35 U.S.C. 103(c) and potential 35 U.S.C. 102(e), (f) or (g) prior art under 35 U.S.C. 103(a).

8. Claims 2-11 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) as being unpatentable over Admitted Prior Art (APA), figures 18-21, in view of Oda (JP 08-274214, applicant cited).

APA discloses a packaging structure having a first substrate 153 (fig. 21) with an opening 157 (fig. 21); a second substrate 150 laminated on the first substrate and covering the opening; a first electronic part 152 inserted inside of the opening 157; and a second electronic part 151 bonded to a surface of the exposed side of the second substrate 150 and wiring for connecting the first part to the second electronic part. However, APA does not explicitly teach that a hard resin filled an interior of the opening to a fixed or larger thickness.

Oda discloses an analogous device having a substrate 1 (abstract) with an opening and thin metal plate bonded and covered the opening; and an electronic part 2 (abstract) inserted into the opening and a hard resin 8 (abstract) filled the interior of the opening.

Therefore, as to claim 2, it would have been obvious to one of ordinary skill in the art at the time the invention of made to modify the invention of APA with the hard resin , as taught by Oda, so as to secure the first electronic part within the opening.

As to claim 3, the second substrate 150 (fig. 21) is a thin film.

As to claim 4, the first electronic part is a capacitor 152, and the second electronic part is an LSI 151 (fig. 21).

As to claim 5, Oda teaches the resin 8 contains a filler agent (abstract) for filling the opening.

As to claim 6, Oda teaches that the resin 8 is made of an epoxy material which is used according to its coefficient of thermal expansion considering the materials used to make for the first and second substrates 1, 10 (abstract).

As to claim 7, the first substrate 153 includes a sustaining member 152 provided within the opening 157 and sustaining an exposed surface of the resin.

As to claim 8, a fin (fig. 21) for cooling is bonded to the second electronic part 151 .

As to claim 9, the second substrate 150 (fig. 21) has a stiffener for reinforcement.

As to claim 10, the stiffener (fig. 21) is provided on the side of the first electronic part 152.

As to claim 11, the stiffener (fig. 21) is provided on an outer peripheral edge of the thin film substrate 150.

Conclusion

Yonehara et al., Sasakura et al., and Ikeda, each disclose a structure having a first substrate and a second substrate, and other elements
